THE TIME TO BUY

"Buy Now" is the slogan of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce and, while it is directed primarily at the merchant, who is slow in putting in his orders for Spring deliveries, it will well serve as a text for the individual consumer.

The long expected avalanche of cut-prices is upon us. Many retailers held off their price-slashing until after the holiday trade had been satisfied, and they are not to be greatly blamed for that, for it requires a sturdy will to sell high priced goods at figures below the cost of purchase. Now merchants are at the place where they must clear their shelves if they are to go into the emarkets for Spring goods and the result is that high grade articles are being offered at prices in many cases lower by one-half than those of a year ago.

The private consumer has been playing a waiting game for more than six months, at least, and some of them for a longer period. But any game may be overplayed. In some instances prices may fall to figures below those of present day offerings, but the slow decrease that may come about over a period of months or years is not worth the waiting for.

The time to buy is now, not only because prices have come down, but in order that the merchant may be able to go to market to replenish his stocks at the new prices, which in turn will start the mills to going and which, finally, will restore the country to a period of real prosperity such as it has not enjoyed for many years.

The individual and the merchant who buy now not only take advantage of a low price level, but help to put business and employment throughout the country back on their feet.

Now is the time to buy, just as last January was the time to stay away from markets that were unreasonably inflated.

Mrs. L. G. Runk and daughter, Eleanor, of Philipsburg, were shopping here on Saturday.

E. E. Lindemuth, of Bradford, spent Saturday in town.

Mrs. Cleaver and two children, of Curwensville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fullington, Margaretta street.

Miss Margaretta Bone, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Clyde Staver, for the past few days, returned to her home in Boardman today.

Mrs. Ada Dillon, of Glen Rickey, shopped in our stores Saturday.

Francis J. Zwieler left this morning for Johnstown, where he will spend several days with friends.

Miss Margaret Shillen is attending the dance in DuBois this evening.

THE GRANARY

A Column of News and Timely Topics for the Man Who Feeds the World

In this day of complicated machinery most farmers probably give little thought to the care of so simple an implement as a plow. But more effort has been expended in the slow process of developing this seemingly simple tool than in that of any other implement on the farm. It is the basic tillage tool, the fundamental farm implement, and it is richly entitled to be properly cared for when not in use.

Should Be Stored in Dry Places

When laid by, say the implement experts, the plow should, if possible, be stored in a dry place, away from contact with the ground. In any case, the bright parts should always be coated with grease to prevent rust. Once the mold board and share have become pitted with rust, an efficient job of plowing can not be done until the corroded parts again have acquired a polish by use.

The United States Department of Agriculture of course, does not stop with the plow in its admonition in this regard. Harrows, also relatively simple but tremendously important implements, are, next to plows, most generally neglected. Many farmers who would not neglect an expensive harvesting machine, say the experts, are careless as to harrows and other implements of this type. But these, also, represent capital invested, and a larger return is possible if they are properly cared for at the end of the season.

If harrows are stored under a shed, the teeth should be supported by blocks or boards, so that they will not become embedded in the ground. All accumulations of earth and trash should be removed. This is especially applicable to wooden-frame harrows. The earthly accumulations retain moisture and accelerate decay. When the wooden parts have dried out sufficiently they should be painted, to prevent season checking and splitting. As the harrow works in wet earth and close to the ground, deterioration is rapid once checking has started.

If the disk harrow is stored in a shed or other floorless building, the disk gangs should be run upon boards so the disks will not become embedded in the ground. Whether housed or not, the implement should be carefully cleaned of all accumulations of soil, and the disks should be greased with a heavy grease to prevent rust. The paint, particularly on the wooden parts, should be renewed frequently.

Get the Mower Under Shelter

Mowers, more generally than plows and harrows, are put under shelter, but many of them spend the winter at the edge of the meadow where the last cutting of hay was made, and in most cases they are not properly greased, even when sheltered.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound

IS A TIME-TRIED REMEDY that can be relied upon to get rid of coughs and colds that lead to serious illness if neglected.

Every User a Friend

"The only remedy we ever use for coughs and colds is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It has been our standby for years, and it never fails us."—T. H. Foley, Marquette, Mich.

"I surely know the worth of Foley's Honey and Tar, as I have taken it with good results. Also have sold hundreds of bottles."—A. L. Stansbury, Parkersburg, W. Va.

Children like Foley's Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates, and will not injure a delicate stomach.

MINE AND MILL SUPPLIES

The long-awaited price adjustment in metal products has taken place. Whatever further changes may occur are bound to be minor, and may be upward as well as downward. This is because manufacturers in these lines have established their new prices very close to their present lower costs to stimulate business. When orders again become more plentiful the increasing demand will tend to increase prices or at least hold them firmly at their present levels.

We are not saying there is any rush, probable shortage of materials, or great increase in price likely. Those things are behind us along with the jazz spending period and the drive industry.

We do say that there is no good reason for delay in the purchase of needed materials or supplies. The present lull in business is the best possible opportunity for each of us to put his house in order in preparation for a long period of sane living honest work, and ordered prosperity.

Our stocks laid in largely since the reductions in mill prices, are here at your service and truly reflect the lower market prices. Good luck to you in 1921 and let us hear from you when you need anything in our line.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By "Skinney"

The Americans take a great deal of satisfaction in the thought that we are the chief peace loving nation of the earth and point the finger of accusation against all of Europe for their failure to obey the commandment "thou shalt not kill." But is this so? As a matter of fact for the past twenty odd years the American soldier has been about the busiest exterminator to be found anywhere. Listen to this:

"Twenty-two years ago we went to war with Spain, and scattered our soldiers over Cuba, Porto Rico, the distant island of Guam, and the Philippines. After that came the Filipino insurrection and for a couple of years our men pursued the festive "gugu."

In the meantime the Boxers broke out in China, and a considerable detachment of American regulars, including the Ninth and Fourteenth Infantry, and some of the Sixth Cavalry, and Riley's Battery, marched with old von Waldersee, and his Germans, and with the British and Japanese against the walls of Peking.

Following the Boxer war, and the fighting with the rebellious Filipinos came a long series of campaigns against the Moros in the southern islands of the Philippine group, and in these campaigns we lost many men. The massacre of C. Company, of the Ninth Infantry, Pershing's battle in the crater of an old volcano, and a hundred other bloody and exciting incidents are recalled when army men get together.

A peaceful occupation of Cuba took a lot of our soldiers back to the Pearl of the Antilles. Then came the years of disorder along the Mexican border, with some work for our fighting men, mainly marines, in Nicaragua.

Scores of Americans were killed in the Mexican troubles, from the desultory raids and skirmishes along the Texas line to the invasion of Vera Cruz, the Punitive Expedition, and finally old De Rosey Cabelle's sweep with his black infantry against Villa's revolutionists at Juarez.

Haiti, with its sanguinary little campaign, for the always busy Marines must not be forgotten, and then the Big War, with American soldiers fighting in France, Belgium and far away Siberia.

Take the twenty years back behind the last twenty in this country and the twenty years on back beyond that and you find they also resound with the crash of musketry, the roar of artillery and the tramp of marching feet.

The Civil War, then the Indian campaigns kept our soldiers fighting almost continuously. Today the American flag floats over our arms on

Blood in Good Condition

START TAKING PEPTO-
MANGAN

Now is the Time to Build Up.
You Will Be Strong This Winter

Every house has a supply of fuel for Winter. People know cold weather is coming. They get ready for it.

How many people get their own bodies ready for Winter? Most of us go around all Summer in the intense heat burning up energy, working hard all day and sometimes lying awake nights sleepless in the heat.

Winter comes along. It catches many people totally unprepared physically. Few of us take stock of our health. Whether we will be well, healthy and strong, we often leave too much to chance.

But not everybody. Nowadays people are learning. They know this matter of enjoying good health is a thing they can help control. If you live right, eat right, get plenty of sleep, breathe fresh air and keep your blood in good condition, you will be all right.

It is so simple. If you feel a little off in health—perhaps worn out and pale—don't take chances. There's no need of it. Buy some Pepto-Mangan of your druggist. Begin taking it today. You can get it in liquid or tablet form. Tell your druggist which you prefer. But to be certain that you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan, ask for it by the full name—"Gude's" Pepto-Mangan. Look for the name "Gude's" on the package—

the Rhine, in Haiti, the Philippines, Guam, Porto Rico and a score of other distant spots, and everywhere there is comparative quiet, but it's about the first time in over half a century that the wearers of the uniform of this most peaceful nation haven't been hearing somewhere the sing of a hostile bullet."

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the U. S. federal court judge at Chicago, who gained fame by fining old John D.'s Standard Oil Company $28,000,000, which fine your Uncle Samuel never found in his sock, because John D. didn't pay, again occupies first place in the hearts of his countrymen. A Chicago home brewer was before Judge Landis last week charged with operating a cute little still in his home. After hearing the evidence and the "last word" of the attorneys, Judge Landis immediately established "home brewing" as the king of indoor sports by observing in a sentence heard 'round the good old U. S. A. that there was no harm in a man brewing his own, if he felt that way and had the tools and the materials. For fear Mayor Chase might dispute our unsupported statement, we give you Judge Landis' very words. In concluding his charge the judge said: "I'm not going to punish a man who runs a little still in his home as a fireside companion when breweries reported to be making beer are not even being punished." The jury promptly returned a verdict of not guilty inside of three minutes by the watch.

We note in the news that Columbus, Ohio, widows and widowers have formed a club by means of which they aim to bring the aforementioned specimens closer together and thus end their loneliness by means of this club. A widow and widower of our acquaintance not long since decided to get closer together and thus end their loneliness. They did so by the marriage route and a club ed it inside of three months. The divorce suit is pending.

MOTHERS, DO THIS—
When the Children Cough,
Rub Musterole on Throats and Chests

No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt, sure relief. It does not blister. As first aid and a certain remedy, Musterole is excellent. Thousands of mothers know it. You should keep a jar in the house, ready for instant use. It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

REST YOUR EYES

That advice is often given to those who complain of eye strain. Resting overworked eyes is desirable, but it is of no use whatever if there are errors of vision present. In fact such eyes CANNOT be rested, except they are kept closed all the time. The light entering defective eyes causes a strain even if the eyes are not used for near work at all. What such eyes need is glasses. We can supply them.

BUSINESS AND TRADE

With Special Attention to Coal, Clay and Brick
Trade News of Local Interest.

In the matter of efficiency of operation, the railroads have made some commendable records since their return to private management.

Among other accomplishments, they have increased the average movement per freight car from 22.3 miles to 28.6 miles per day, an increase of 6.3 miles, or approximately 28 per cent.

Then, too, they have increased the average load per car from 28.3 tons to 30 tons, thus not only loading the cars a little heavier but moving the cars more rapidly.

Allof this is economy which will mean larger net earnings at a time when the earnings are not coming up to the per cent. allowed by the railroad act.

THE GRANERY

Get the mower under shelter, if possible. In any case, clean the knife bar, wipe it with a greasy rag, and store in a dry place. Place a block of wood or other support under the midpoint of the tongue, so that it will not acquire a permanent sag. If the mower is stored with the cutter bar in a vertical position, place a block of wood under the shoe to take the weight off the frame. All accumulations of vegetable matter and dirt should be removed and all bearings and other bright parts of the machine oiled or greased. Much the same rules apply to reapers and binders.

The time to care for each implement is when its work is finished. Pressure of other work, however, frequently makes this inconvenient, but nothing should be allowed to interfere with getting all machinery greased, and, if possible, under cover before the beginning of winter. Then, as early in the winter as you can find time for it, go over every piece and see what repairs are needed. If new parts have to be ordered, order them at once. A great deal of valuable time is lost every spring waiting for repair parts to arrive from the city.

The best possible use should be made of such housing space as is available and grease and paint should be used without stint. Any farm implement with bearings and bright parts well protected with heavy grease is better off out in the weather than standing in a shed without any protection by grease or oil.

The United States Department of Agriculture has two bulletins—Farmers' Bulletin 946 and Farmers' Bulletin 947—devoted to the repair and adjustment of farm implements. With all implements safely sheltered for the winter, you have time to write for these bulletins and to use the information they contain in putting your implements and machines in the best possible condition for next crop season.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Mrs. Enos Bloom and Mrs. Park, both of this place, attended the funeral of the late Mrs. J. W. Snyder, near New Millport on Saturday.

Saturday was pay day at the Crescent refractory plant and word was passed around to the effect that but two "turns" would be worked during the week, the result of which will be a good many men out of employment for a short period of time at least. The employees are biding on the hope that work in full will be resumed in full not later than February 1st.

Martha Mullin and Coolbroth, Curwensville's assassins in their respective wards, are busily engaged in their work. It is quite a task. All males must be listed as taxables military roll made out of males in age from 21 to 45 years, valuation on all horses, mules and cows, over the age of 4 years, accounting all money in the hands of persons upon which interest is collected, and making an enrollment of all women voters.

Miss Gussie Hertzner and her brother William, attended a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt at Hyde, on Friday evening last. A very pleasant evening was spent in playing games, etc., after which the guests were treated to some delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Edith Schickling and her brother Howard were several day guests in the home of James Milliron and family on Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William Post were Sunday visitors at the home of their son Ernest Post on Grampian Road.

Miss Alice Milliron entertained a week end lunch of her young lady friends. A most pleasant time was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hastings entertained several Sunday guests from Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hertzner spent several days in the Curwensville home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hertzner.

Holy communion services were held in the Grace Lutheran church Sunday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. Edwin C. Dingman, of New Millport.

Rev. A. N. Salvie, an evangelist, is holding a series of meetings in the United Christian church. Considerable interest is being awakened and the attendance each evening is reasonably good. Too many Christian meetings cannot be held in any community for its good and betterment of the people. Most of us are living entirely too far away from the teachings of the gospel these days, and it will take some powerful demonstration to bring us to a realization of the manner in which we are living from week to week. A revival meeting was started in the M. E. church Sunday evening with the promise of much good being derived therefrom.

Last Tuesday Mrs. James Spence rounded out her 50th year as a resident of Curwensville. She is the second oldest female citizen, her age being 82 years. She has many friends in this town.

Harry Cashier and Miss Olive King were united in the bonds of wedlock on Saturday morning at the home of the bride, Rev. J. O. Collins, pastor of the M. E. church officiating. The wedding was a quiet one, only the family and a few intimate friends being present. The bride is the eldest daughter of Dr. H. O. and Mrs. King, and was born and reared in this town where she has an innumerable host of friends who wish her nothing but unalloyed happiness in her new sphere of life. Mr. Cashier, the groom, has been a resident for some time and at present is holding an important position in the office of the Crescent Refractories company this place. He is an honest, industrious young man, also with many friends. The young couple departed on the noon train for an extended honeymoon trip upon their return to Curwensville, will reside in the town permanently. The Progress joins the wish of their many friends for their unalloyed happiness and prosperity through their journey through life.

Russell Crutskank, a son of Samuel Crutskank, South Side, is home having been discharged from service in the army, he having served since commencement of the World's War. He saw considerable foreign service at the time of his discharge he was attached to the Field Artillery.

It has been stated that if all things go well P. E. Smith a resident of the South Side, will have his name placed on the Republican ticket as a candidate for the office of county sheriff.

The Sonny Blouse factory is advertising female help. Some thirty girls and women can find employment if they so desire it.

Curwensville merchants are busy going over their stock and marking down and arranging prices to correspond with the times. Buyers are not spending money any too freely, because prices have been high, hence the reduction in all goods.

Owns Part in These Laboratories

THESE great manufacturing laboratories are co-operatively owned by members of the Associated Pharmacists.

The facilities of these central factories—manufacturing, purchasing, and experimental—are at the disposal of your local A. Ph. store.

As a result, the A. Ph. druggist is able to give you a bigger, better money's worth. For the sake of purity, safety and economy, it will pay you to buy at the A. Ph. store.

THIS IS APPLE WEEK

Do you like apples? Of course you do. Not just because they are good for your health, but because they taste good. You should eat apples every day.

Careful Attention to the trees, constant care of the fruit from the time the buds appear until the ripened fruit is ready for market, give Pleasant Valley Apples their rich color and delicious flavor.

THOS. INCE PRESENTS HENRY B. WALTHALL in "THE FALSE FACES"

By Louis Joseph Vance

Is there one among you who is not familiar with the famed exploits of the LONE WOLF? "THE FALSE FACES" is a continuation of this daring crook's breath-taking adventures. Tom Ince has given the story an admirable production, and Henry Walthall makes the Lone Wolf live before you. Make up your mind to see this. It's wonderful!

FIVE NEW GAME PRESERVES BEING PLANNED BY STATE

Preliminary steps for establishment of five game preserves this year have been authorized by the state game commission and they will be located as soon as possible, probably in the next few months, if weather continues favorable, in the Diamond Valley, district of Huntingdon county; near Norwich, McKean county; Hallton, Elk county; Clarion, Warren county, and in Jefferson, not far from Punxsutawney. If land can be secured, a preserve will be laid out in the Blue mountains in Lehigh and Carbon counties. The state now has 27 such preserves.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a chill, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. See and ?

A Card to The Public

It is not my custom to give advance personal indorsement of an attraction, but the advance reports on "Nightie Night" have been so exceptionally good that I would not do my duty were I not to urge every patron of the theatre to witness it. I personally guarantee "Nightie Night" has more brilliant comedy, affords more real pleasure, displays finer acting and provokes more hearty laughter than any attraction of this or any other year.

DIDN'T HAVE WELL DAY IN THIRTY LONG YEARS

At Age 72 Kingston Man Gains 15 Pounds and Is Restored To Health—He Wouldn't Take $1,000 for the Good Tanlac Did Him.

It is truly remarkable that a man 72 years of age should gain 15 pounds in weight but that is just what P. W. Good, 332 College street, Kingston, Penna., declares he did by taking Tanlac. What makes Mr. Good's experience more remarkable is that this gain was made in less than 30 days time.

"If anybody should offer me one thousand dollars in cold cash for the good Tanlac has done me I would tell him to keep the money. For 30 years I didn't know a well day but here I am as sound as a dollar and as active as the average man of 40."

"When I began to take the medicine I was in bad shape. My stomach was all out of fix and I ate just enough to keep alive. Nothing agreed with me and often I had such gasping spells it would look like I was going to pass away."

"My nerves went all to pieces and my hand shook so that if I tried to raise a cup of coffee to my mouth

I would spill it all over the table. I had rheumatism, too, especially in my back and had to be helped out of my chair as I couldn't get out by myself. I was never free from headaches and was always constipated."

"My condition was truly deplorable when I started on Tanlac and while I thought it might help me some I got the surprise of my life by what actually happened. It seemed almost miraculous the way this medicine gave me an appetite, improved my digestion and started me on the road to health. Soon my nerves were as steady as when I was a young man of 20, the headaches left me and I didn't have a vestige of rheumatism. For the first time in 30 years I am free from pains and aches. I could hardly believe my eyes when I weighed myself just four weeks after the first dose and found I had gained 15 pounds."

"I am 72 years old and have seen a good deal of life but in all my experiences I have never seen or heard of a medicine the equal of Tanlac. It stands out supreme without a rival."
